

MOUNTAIN DUCT CLEANING

& Ice Dam Removal

For nearly 25 years we've been your trusted partner for duct and dryer vent cleaning. We've cleaned hundreds of homes after they've had water damage... now we're trying to stop water damage before it happens.

Ice dams form near the edges of your roof, in the valleys where rooflines meet, and at areas of heat loss. When snow above them melts, water pools above the dams and can leak back into your attic and eventually into your home causing major damage and potential mold issues. They can also damage your gutters.

The Arctic Steamer that we use is not only the most effective system for removing ice dams, but it's the safest for your roof as well. Unlike pressure washers, the 290° flash steam we use is gentle on your shingles (and we aren't sending hundreds of gallons of water cascading down which just makes more ice). No chemicals, no salt, no hammers needed.
